Odds and Ends and Comment on Our Morning

Dispatches from Luxor, Egypt, tell of the glory of the sarcopinguof King Tutanhlumen, with the golden gleam of the most splendil gilded mammy case over uncovered by the excavator's pick. Those are things to delight the eye of the archeologist. But for us, the imagination is intrigued by the little bunch of withered natural flowers the explorers found, when the lid of the sarcophagus was raised. What was it: an ancient embien of the resurrection to come?

Faded and dry, the funeral bonquet must have been placed there by someone who cared for the king, not because of the majesty of his station in life, but for the pun himself, How this small touch spans the 30 centuries between the time Tatankhday! Three thousand years ago, yet the withered flowers bear mute witness that, as the poets have said of life, it is "a little gleam of time between two eternities."

Thirty centuries 'ago! Thirty centuries hence! After all, they mean little to the life of man. Perhaps if we could but realize how brief is this flash of consciousness called life we would not fret so much over obstacles we find in these material things we think we want. The only enduring thing, if you'll pardon the moralizing, is our unselfish service to others that brings us their devotion, their leve. This is the meaning of that little bruch of withered flowers on the coffin lid of King Tutankhamen.

PORT ARTHUR WATCHES AUSTIN HEARING WITH MUCH INTEREST

The peep given Port Arthur people between the lines in the testimony being offered at the Austin hearing would indicate from this distance that witnesses for Port Arthur's and Colonel Duff's ease were injecting extremely valuable evidence as to the necessity of Duff's proposed line.

All Port Arthur is watching the legal battle with interest. The issue is of paramount importance. Every citizen is offering his moral support to the crusaders appearing before the commis-

When the hearing is completed, however, Port Arthur must be prepared not to expect an immediate decision. While we have every faith and hope in the justice of our cause, there should be no disappointments voiced because of the delay necessary to such a decision.

Upon completion of testimony it is likely that experts will be named by the commission to conduct a survey of Port Arhtur. domestic and export business requirements. Time will clapse during which this is being done. Finally the report will go to the commission and will be a considerable factor in influencing a decision one way or the other.

Port Arthur, thanks to experience, knows how to wait and wait patiently. If there is truth in the old maxim that "Everything comes to him who waits," Port Arthur shall win. Not content with waiting, it has fought a long and hard fight. This fight is now carried to Austin.

Some day, reasonably soon, we shall know its fruits.

RALSTON OF INDIANA

Senator Samuel A. Ralston of Indiana is a democrat, a friend of the people, a presidential possibility, a connery banker a successful farmer and the champion chicken raiser of Hoosierdom. He made a speech the other day in which he discussed taxation and tax measures.

He submitted a number of proposals, one to strike from the income tax laws all provisions for taxing incomes of less than $5,600. Ralston of Indiana is a demagogue although he may ! not know it. Why shouldn't all incomes be taxed? Why discrimination! There is a war debt to be paid and if the wealth. of the nation is to pay It why the Ralston plan?

"RUGGLES of RED GAP"

You'll split your sides laughing at the experiences of Ruggles, English valet, in the Western town of Red Gap. Won from the Honourable George in a poker game, he becomes servant to Cousin Eghert, roughand-ready Westerner. Then things happen at a mile-aminute clip! And they're all so screamingly funny you couldn't keep a straight face if it meant your life!
